

BUSINESS SIGNS ARE ALL IN THE SUN

ENCOURAGING TRADE OUTLOOK REPORTED BY DUN & CO.

Splendid Crop Prospects, Marked Increase in Foreign Demand and Good Advance in the Price of Wheat—The Week's Failures Show a Gratifying Decrease

New York, July 31.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Dispatches from almost every northern city of importance report without exception improvement in business, and from Detroit to Seattle and Portland splendid crop prospects. The task of adjusting the business and industries of the country to conditions created by a new law has progressed with gratifying rapidity and ease. The increasing strength of the striking coal miners furthors the adoption of the uniformity plan, which promises to remove most of the causes of such struggles. Some confusion is caused by events seemingly contradictory; by the closing of large cotton mills when many other works are starting, and by the decline in some prices when others are advancing, but the balance is unmistakably on the right side.

"The most important event since the passage of the new tariff has been the marked increase in foreign demand and the advance in the price for wheat, the latter has risen 4½ cents during the week, with western receipts for the first time exceeding last year's, and western railroads besieged for cars, and with Atlantic exports of 1,718,738 bushels, flour included, for the week. With heavy contracts for shipment—exceeding 1,200,000 bushels on a single day—and with French markets excited, speculative sales here have little influence. The fact that corn exports exceed last year's, although the price has advanced to 32.75 cents, is further proof that foreign demands are substantial.

"The woolen manufacture answers wholesomely and moderately to new tariff conditions, and while opening of light weights below about $1 in cost has met a very encouraging demand, the advance in prices asked is not large. Selling of wool at Boston, where the speculation has been most active, is suggestive, amounting to 8,848,000 pounds for the week, and at three chief markets to 11,984,500. Sales for four weeks have been 46,109,200 pounds, 22,538,500 being domestic, against 7,211,350 in all last year.

"Failures for the week have been 236 in the United States, against 281 last year, and 28 in Canada, against 40 last year."

For a Christian Jubilee.

New York, July 31.—The Rome correspondent of the New York Freeman's Journal has cabled a letter written by Cardinal Jacobini and addressed to all Catholic bishops throughout the world, proposing one of the most widespread series of religious events probably ever held. These extraordinary religious services, it is intended, shall commemorate the close of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth century. The communication prays the co-operation of various diocesan heads in the direction of the creation of the national committees to act with the main body.

Ocean Vessel Goes Down.

London, July 31.—Cable dispatches from Melbourne say the steamer Tasmania, bound from Wellington to Sydney, N. S. W., struck a rock off Cape Mahia, between the towns of Napier and Gisborne, New Zealand, and sank in three hours. Three boat loads, containing passengers and crew, who escaped from the wrecked steamer, were missing for some time and fears were entertained that they were lost. They were picked up later, but it is reported that six of the crew were drowned.

IS RANK ROBBERY.

Canada Can Never Collect Her Taxes in the Klondike Region.

Ottawa, Ont., July 31.—The most important decision arrived at by the Dominion Cabinet in regard to the organization of the Yukon district is to impose a tax, or royalty, upon the output of the placer diggings. Under the regulations recently issued the fee for registering a claim was fixed at $15, while an annual assessment of $100 was to be paid by the holder. Now, in addition to this, a royalty of 10 per cent will be levied upon the output of all claims yielding $500 and under to each claim, and 20 per cent upon each claim yielding over that amount.

Among those posted the opinion is freely expressed that it will be impossible to so supervise the output of these thousands of individual claims as to collect royalty upon the exact yield.

Will Hold Another Conference.

Pittsburg, Kan., July 31.—Representatives of five of the fifteen coal mining companies in this district met here Friday with the special committee appointed by the miners at their convention held last Saturday, and discussed the grievances of the miners. The meeting was secret, and lasted over two hours. The miners, it is understood, demanded a better quality of powder at a lower price, semi-monthly pay days, an increase in the price to 60 cents per ton, and an increase in the price of entry work. No decision was reached, but another conference will be held on Friday, August 6.

International Bicycle Championship.

Glasgow, July 31.—Fifteen thousand persons gathered at Celtic Park Friday to witness the international bicycle racing. The one-mile professional championship contest in which four riders from each country took part was won by England, who captured nine points. France and Denmark tied for second place with eleven points. Scotland and Ireland tied for third place with seven points. The one-mile championship was won by Arend of Germany, with Barden of England second, and Nossam of France third. America was not represented.

Cotton Mills Will Shut Down.

Lawrence, Mass., July 31.—The Everett mills have shut down for a period of five weeks. Operations also will be suspended at the Atlantic mills for one month, beginning Aug. 1. The agents of the mills claim they are obliged to curtail the production of cotton goods, and believe the month of August affords the best opportunity to do so, considering the interests of all concerned. About 2,500 operatives are affected.

Says He Is Blacklisted.

St. Louis, Mo., July 31.—David Hurley has brought suit for $30,000 damages against the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway company for placing him on the so-called "blacklist." He wants $10,000 actual and $20,000 punitive damages. Hurley up to 1893 had been in the employ of the Iron Mountain road as a roadmaster. Then he resigned and was placed on the blacklist.

Sherman's Health Improved.

Washington, July 31.—Word comes to Washington from Secretary Sherman at Amagansett, L. I., that his health has improved since he arrived at that place. He is about to leave for Boston in a day or two and this trip will be followed by a sea voyage.

DEATH IN THE BLAST AFTER A HOT DAY

CENTRAL ILLINOIS SWEEP BY A TORNADO.

End of a Day of Awful Heat—The House of A. C. McDowell, Near San Jose, Destroyed and Seven of Its Occupants Crushed to Death—Others Are Injured.

San Jose, Cal., July 31.—A cyclone of terrific energy swept across this region at 7 o'clock Friday evening and left destruction and death in its wake. At midnight seven deaths had been reported and three persons were severely injured. Following are the names of killed:

A. C. McDOWELL AND HIS GRANDSON.

WIFE OF SAMUEL BROWNLEE. THREE BROWNLEE CHILDREN. MISS JESSIE GROVES, a neighbor who was spending the evening with the McDowells.

The following were seriously injured:

Mrs. A. C. McDowell, her son Charles and daughter Mary.

It is probable that there were casualties in outlying districts, which will be reported later.

After a day of terrible heat, the clouds began to pile up in fantastic forms at about 5 o'clock and the air grew thick and oppressive. The heavy clouds in the north especially grew dark and darker. Every one instinctively feared the coming of a cyclone. About 7 o'clock darkness fell suddenly upon the earth, broken here and there by vivid lightning. Soon, with a rush and a roar, came a tornado from the north, carrying with it boiling and tossing clouds. Every one ran for a place of safety, many seeking refuge in cellars. San Jose escaped damage only because the storm rose north of the town and passed above it.

Half an hour after the passage of the storm a messenger came galloping into town on a foaming horse. He reported that terrible destruction had been wrought on the farm of A. C. McDowell, two and one-quarter miles north, and summoned the assistance of surgeons.

A terrific scene was that at the home of the McDowells. The cyclone had struck the farm at its northern line and swept across it, cutting a pathway of destruction. The McDowell homestead was utterly demolished, the house being blown from its foundation and torn to fragments, its timbers and furniture scattered to the four winds. The barn had shared the same fate, and its contents blown out of sight. The seven occupants of the house were killed, and their mangled and torn bodies were scattered about the ruined homestead. The three injured were taken from the ruins.

The cyclone also struck the farm of John McDowell and destroyed his barn and fine walnut grove. The house escaped, the tornado passing within a few yards of it. The storm was followed by a deluge resembling a cloudburst.

Crops Destroyed by a Hailstorm.

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 31.—A destructive hail storm passed near here early Friday morning. The storm started three miles west of Dell Rapids, and went in a southwesterly direction, destroying absolutely everything in its path around Garretson. One branch of the storm passed over Sherman, and Luverne, Minn. Here it went in two paths, one north and the other south, across Rock and Nobles counties. The path of this branch of the storm was over ten miles wide. It is estimated that fully 1,000,000 acres of crops was destroyed.

Young People's Alliance Meets.

Pittsburg, July 31.—When Rev. S. P. Spreng called the second session of the first biennial convention of the Young People's Alliance of the Evangelical association to order there were 200 delegates present. Almost every state in the union was represented and there were also several delegates from Canada. The corresponding secretary's report showed a very encouraging condition of affairs.

Brazilians Were Badly Beaten.

Rio Janeiro, July 31.—Further details of the fight at Canudos make it evident that the first report was not exaggerated, and, in fact, did not tell the full extent of the fanatic victory. The government troops lost a large party of their artillery in the battle, and the guns, in good order, are now in possession of the fanatics.

To Cheer Col. Henderson.

Dubuque, Iowa, July 31.—To cheer Colonel Henderson, about to undergo the amputation of one of his legs at Washington, a large number of his friends joined in a telegram expressing the hope that the operation might fully restore his health, and that his useful career in congress might be continued.

Steel Company's Plan Lost.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—At a joint meeting of the lodges of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers in this city Friday a proposition of the Illinois Steel company in reference to wages in the top and bottom mill was rejected. This action for the time being upsets the plan of the company.

MINERS ORDERED TO BREAK RANKS

PENNSYLVANIA SHERIFF ISSUES A PROCLAMATION.

Anxious to Avoid Trouble—Miners Are Forbidden to Assemble in the Highways—Judge Mason Upholds the Injunction Issued in West Virginia

Pittsburg, Pa., July 31.—Sheriff Harvey A. Lowry is alarmed over the assembling of the striking miners at different points throughout the county, and has decided to take every precaution to prevent the trouble that at this time seems imminent. Friday afternoon he issued a proclamation commanding the men to disperse. A large number of copies of the proclamation, in the form of great posters, were printed and deputies from the sheriff's office started through the county to post them. They will be displayed in conspicuous places about the mines where the strikers assemble.

A portion of the deputies went to the De Armit mines, where many of the men who attended the big mass-meeting on Wednesday are still in camp. The proclamation was read to those that are there, and they were asked to return to their homes. In case of their refusal to do so they will be arrested. This action, it is thought, will prevent any rioting by strikers and may be the means of avoiding serious trouble.

INJUNCTION AGAINST MINERS.

Judge Mason Decides Against Organizers in the Fairmont District.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 31.—The most important event in the miners' strike in West Virginia Friday was the handing down of the opinion of Special Judge John W. Mason of the Marion county Circuit court on the application of the Monongah and Watson coal companies for an injunction prohibiting the agitators and organizers of the Mine Workers' union and others from conducting a conspiracy to induce the miners to strike and cause a discontinuance of work in the mines of the plaintiffs. Judge Mason gave his opinion that the injunction should stand.

This decision makes the injunction permanent and renders liable to its provisions all who make further attempts to create a strike in Marion county. The strikers have decided to go on with the work at Fairmont in spite of Judge Mason's decision, and, as fast as men are arrested under the injunction they will be bailed and put into other fields, new ones taking their places in Fairmont.

Refused to Join the Strikers.

Spring Valley, Ill., July 31.—With the exception of the country mine at City Hollow, where fifteen miners are at work, there is no shaft being operated in this vicinity except that at Galva, with sixty employees. Organizer John Mitchell of this city, who persuaded the miners at Kewanee, Gilchrist, Wanlock and Coal Valley to close, was unable to induce the Galva miners to join the strikers. Reports come in from Sparland and points in this county that a body of miners is forming to march on Galva as soon as a detachment from this city joins them.

Relief Work in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—The effort to raise a relief fund for the striking miners of this state, whom the special commissioners appointed by the governor report to be in distress, is not meeting with success. Gov. Mount started the fund with a subscription of $50, and all the state officers and their employees contributed something, but so far but one private citizen has contributed anything. The committee will make a special canvass of this city for funds.

Likely to Work on Half Time.

Pittsburg, Kan., July 31.—The miners in this district have resolved to notify operators that they are unwilling to work more than three days a week for the present. This decision is not unanimous, but the movement is daily spreading. The object is to prevent an accumulation of coal that might eventually find its way to the east and thereby be the means of deferring an early settlement of the strike.

Iowa Miners Make Demands.

Centerville, Iowa, July 31.—At a mass meeting of Appanoose County miners here it was decided not to suspend work if the operators will pay 80 cents for mining until Oct. 10, and $1 from then until April 1. There is little doubt but that the operators will grant the demands. A resolution was also adopted assessing each miner in the district 25 cents per week for the benefit of the eastern strikers.

Men Are Still Working.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 31.—Many rumors were current Friday regarding the condition of affairs at the De Armit mines. One was to the effect that all the men at all three mines were out. President W. P. De Armit denies this.

Fatal Fire in Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 31.—Mrs. Wallace J. Seoby was fatally burned and her little son, 17 months old, suffocated. Two daughters, older, escaped. The mother dropped a lighted lamp and her clothing caught fire.

WRECKERS KILL TWO.

Engineer and Fireman Lose Their Lives at Thornton, Ind.

Lebanon, Ind., July 31.—The Big Four night express, east-bound, was wrecked at Thornton at 2:15 Friday morning. Two men are dead, another is dying, and still another probably is injured fatally. The dead are:

SETH WINSLOW, engineer, of Greensburg, Ind.

JESSE QUICKMORE, fireman, Indianapolis.

The injured:

Charles Gaviger, Cleveland, Ohio; head cut and injured internally; cannot live.

Henry Priebe, Cleveland, Ohio; head cut, back injured and arms and legs badly scalded; may recover.

The train probably was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour, when the engine left the track at the switch just west of the Church street crossing. After tearing up the track for a distance of 100 yards the engine plunged into the ditch and turned completely over on its right side. The body of Engineer Winslow was found pinioned between the engine and tender, horribly mangled. Quickmore's body had fallen under the tender, was not recovered until the wrecking crew arrived. He had been boiled by the escaping steam, and when the body was removed shreds of scalded flesh dropped from the limbs.

The accident is without doubt the work of train-wreckers. A coupling-pin was found wedged between the rail of the main track and the point of the split-switch at the spot where the engine left the track. Officers are at work on the case, and every effort is being made to locate the guilty. Several clues are being followed and it is believed something startling will be developed at the coroner's inquest.

Ready to Sign Treaty of Peace.

Paris, July 31.—A dispatch to the Temps, from Constantinople, says that the signing of the preliminaries of peace awaits only the reply of the Greek government fixing the dates for the payment of indemnity. Besides providing for a rectification of the frontier in accordance with the plans of the European military attaches and for an indemnity of £4,000,000, the treaty directs that a mixed commission of delegates of the powers and of Turkey shall fix the compensation due Ottoman subjects for losses through the war. The question of the capitulations is left to be settled by Greece and Turkey before the conclusion of a definite peace. The evacuation of Thessaly is made conditional upon the full discharge of the indemnity.

Wants Sweeping Changes.

Nashville, Tenn., July 31.—Walter Clark, associate justice of the Supreme court of North Carolina, delivered an address before the Tennessee bar association in which he advocated the election by the people of the federal judiciary and officers of court, the election of senators by the people and of postmasters and all other federal officials, and made a vigorous attack upon the appointive power of the president.

Nothing Yet Settled.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 31.—The joint wage committee of the Window-Glass Workers' association continued its sessions Friday, but nothing was determined in the direction of the general wage scale. A communication from the national manufacturers' association was received, requesting that the workers' representatives on the question of wages meet the manufacturers' representatives in conference on Aug. 11, in Chicago. This was agreed to.

Disciples Elect Officers.

Eureka, Ill., July 31.—Friday's exercises at the Illinois Christian encampment were largely attended. The following officers were elected: President, J. B. McKnight, Peoria; vice president, B. J. Radford, Eureka; secretary, C. A. Heckle, Greenville; treasurer, H. H. Herrick, Eureka. The executive committee is: L. F. Watson, Watseka; J. F. Jones, Stanford; Clara L. Davidson, Eureka.

Lisbon's Streets Patrolled.

Madrid, July 31.—The Portuguese Journal, Seculo, says that owing to the disturbed condition of Lisbon and Oporto the troops stationed there have been confined to their barracks. Reinforcements are arriving and the streets are patrolled by troops. Many arrests have been made and the customs authorities have seized a quantity of ammunition.

Gov. Tanner Denies Rumors.

Springfield, Ill., July 31.—Governor Tanner was asked in regard to the rumors current that he would call a special session of the legislature, and that some of those close to him personally had intimated he would. The governor said he had not even given the subject of calling a special session a thought.

Prince Henry Agrees to Fight.

London, July 31.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Rome says that Prince Henry of Orleans has telegraphed to General Sismond and General Mazzatelli, the seconds of General Albertone, notifying them that he accepts the challenge to fight a duel issued by General Albertone, because of the accusations made by the Prince against Italian officers who took part in the recent Abyssinian campaign. The combat will be fought in Switzerland, and it is probable that pistols will be the weapons used.

NEW FREIGHT LINE STRAIGHT TO SEA

BIG DEAL JUST COMPLETED IN MILWAUKEE.

The Lima & Northern Secures Dockage, and Will Transfer Freight Across the Lake By Car Ferry to Holland, Mich.—Connection With Norfolk & Western.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—An important railway deal was completed here this morning which will give the Lima Northern Railway a through line to the seaboard. The Lima company has succeeded in securing the lease of dockage here, and will put on a ferry line between Holland, Michigan, and this city, which will give a through route for flour and all freight. Connection is made at the other end of the line with the Norfolk and Western railway. It is expected that the ferry will be started this summer.

POLITICIANS ACTIVE.

Active Headquarters to Be Maintained at Washington.

Washington, July 31.—The republican national committee is maintaining its headquarters here during the summer and keeping a force of employees at work getting out documents for use in those states where the campaign next fall will be of a national character. The states are Iowa, Maryland and Ohio. The legislatures which will be elected by them next fall will choose United States senators. The literary bureau is maintained to supply campaign matter to country newspapers.

The republican congressional committee also has its headquarters open. It is not expected, however, that much will be done before next winter beyond planning out the lines of literary work.

The free-silver men are not behind the republicans in their industry. The American Bimetallic union has headquarters here, with Messrs. George D. Bowen and H. F. Bartine in charge. Literature bearing on the free-silver question is being distributed. Much of it goes to Iowa and Ohio.

JAPAN WILL ARBITRATE.

Hawaii's Offer Accepted by the Mikado's Government.

Washington, July 31.—The Japanese government has accepted the offer made by Hawaii to arbitrate the dispute between the two countries. The state department has been informed of the offer and the acceptance. The subject of arbitration will include not only the difficulty over the landing of the Japanese immigrants, but also will include other disagreements between the two countries, the most important of which is the sake tax, imposed upon a Japanese liquor largely imported and consumed by the Japanese in Hawaii.

It is not expected that the state department will make more than a formal acknowledgement of the latest communication from Japan upon the subject of the annexation of Hawaii, the understanding being that all future negotiations will be conducted by Minister Buck and the Japanese foreign office at Tokio.

ILLINOIS MINERS CALLED.

Soft Coal Diggers Asked to Meet Springfield, Aug. 5.

Braidwood, Ill., July 31.—This call has issued to the soft coal miners of the state:

"To the Miners and Mine Laborers of the State of Illinois, Organized and Unorganized—You are hereby notified that there will be a convention of the miners and mine laborers of Illinois held in the city of Springfield, commencing at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning, Aug. 5, 1897. This convention will adopt a uniform scale for mining coal in both hand and machine mines, and a corresponding rate for day work.

"It will be necessary for every mining town in the state to be represented at this convention. Let the miners of Illinois turn out and make this the largest and most enthusiastic convention ever held in the state."

Fight for Hours, but Lose.

Simla, July 31.—A dispatch from Camp Malakand reports another night attack by the tribesmen Thursday. The rebellious natives fought desperately for several hours, but were repulsed at all points. Bonfires had been lighted around the camp, and in the glare the tribesmen were easy targets for the British riflemen. The British lost one killed and seventeen wounded. The situation is now somewhat relieved by the arrival of reinforcements under Col. Reed from Nowshers.

Richmond, Va., July 31.—R. E. Lee camp, Confederate Veterans, after a protracted debate, refused to indorse the invitation extended to the Grand Army by the Young Men's Business association of Richmond to come to this city for their annual encampment in 1899.

Will Not Run for Governor.

Dubuque, Iowa, July 31.—W. H. Torbett, announces the withdrawal of his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. He suggests that too many candidates imperil party harmony, and that some should withdraw.

CREAMERY NOW HELD BY ANOTHER FIRM

M. M. PHELPS AND H. J. BULLOCK BUY IT.

The Amount Due W. H. Spooner Will Be Applied On the Accounts of Patrons—New Management Will Take Steps to Build Up the Business.

H. J. Bullock and M. M. Phelps have purchased the Bower City creamery, located on River street, this city, of W. H. Spooner, taking possession this morning. Mr. Bullock is known in the creamery world as one of the best cheese makers in southern Wisconsin. He operates a factory at Lima, and has sold his product in Janesville through the grocers, for years. He will have charge of the practical operations of the new enterprise. The deal, it is understood, would have been consummated some time ago, had it not been for a determination of the purchasers that the purchase money should go as far as was necessary, or as far as it would, to meet the claims of the farmers for milk furnished.

Judge Phelps, when asked regarding the matter said: "We have bought all of W. H. Spooner's right, title and interest in the creamery and taken over his lease on the present quarters in the Norcross block on River street. It is stipulated that the purchase price of such interest, which amounts to several hundred dollars, is to go pro rata to pay the patrons for the milk furnished during July. This will equal 94 1/2 per cent. I do not wish to be understood as settling this matter for Mr. Spooner, but only as a distributor of this money. Consequently I will not exact from the patrons a receipt in full, but only ask a receipt for the amount I pay. You might say in this connection, if you will, that patrons are requested to call on me at an early date and get their checks."

When asked as to the policy of the new management, Judge Phelps said: "We are going to operate the creamery in a manner that will command the confidence of the farmers of Rock county. We will pay the highest price we can conservatively for milk, preferring to pay by the butter fat test, and expect to make the best of butter and cheese."

It is learned that Cornish, Ourtis & Greene, the creamery supply men of Fort Atkinson, held a chattel mortgage on a large part of the equipment. For this reason the Spooner equity is comparatively small. Otherwise, the Spooner creditors would have secured 100 cents on a dollar.

Seacom has there been as great interest in any Janesville enterprise as has existed in the Bower City creamery. It did not come hat in hand seeking a location, factory, power, etc. gratis with a cash bonus added, but paid its way from the start. In a few weeks it was handling some 6000 pounds of milk a day and distributing to the farmers located near Janesville, nearly $1000 a month. It did not take a very astute citizen to see in this enterprise, profit directly or indirectly to every business man of the city. Its decadence was steady and was largely due to bad management.

The rehabilitation of the enterprise, placing it in the hands of men who command the confidence of milk producers, and who can run it as it should be run, will give general satisfaction.

THE YIELD OF HAY IS SMALL

Crop Has Been Secured, However, in Good Condition

Haying is nearly completed. The crop is not up to the average yield but has generally been secured in good condition. The small grain harvest is also well along. The oat crop will be lighter than a year ago, both in growth of straw and in yield of grain. The quality of the grain, however, promises to be fair, probably a heavier berry than last season. Corn, tobacco and potatoes are looking fine in this section.

GAS CO.'S PRICE IS NOT HIGH

Quoted The City Very Low Figures In Two Propositions.

To the Public—I had not calculated to say much more about the lighting question, as I think, as the lawyers say, that I have made out my case. However, many people have asked me whether or not Mayor Thoroughgood was right when he said that "the gas company has no contract because they charged so much more this year than last." I wish to state to the public that the gas company has not asked the city to pay an exorbitant price, but has named lower prices than other cities are paying for like service. I also desire to say that the company has done nothing during this controversy that is questionable, and has made no statements that cannot be substantiated. The company has never refused to meet the committee, and make, or consider, such propositions as the committee desired.

Mayor Thoroughgood seems to be anxious to say something about the gas company at every meeting of the council. He last spoke about the price charged. Supt. Wortendyke was called before the lighting committee at 10 o'clock at night, and was told that "all bids had been rejected." He was then offered $25 per year for 74 Welsbach lights. It is very evident to any one of common intelligence that the gas company could not furnish 74 lights, to be scattered all over town, at the price named in the bid to "light the city." The company gave a price, however, on 74 lights that was as low as was ever charged for gas Welsbach lights on all nights and every night service. This price was $28 per year if the lights were burned in any one district, and $32 per year if the lights were scattered about the city. Other cities pay these prices for quantities of Welsbach lights run on a moonlight schedule, but Janesville was offered all night service at these figures. "Moonlight schedule" means that lights burn 2216 hours per year, while all night service means that lights burn 3,987 hours per year. This company, in its bid, offered three hundred Welsbach lights at $24.75 per year. Tampa, Florida, pays $27 per year per light, for three hundred lights on the gas mains, run on a moonlight schedule.

The gas company quoted the city very low prices, both in bidding and in the subsequent negotiations. Hence it cannot be said that the company did not get the contract because the price was too high. I do not think another city in the United States was ever offered Welsbach lights, under the same circumstances, at as low a figure as was made by the gas company in these two propositions.

If Mayor Thoroughgood meant his remarks to be an answer to the protest signed by 125 taxpayers, of whom one, myself, is connected with the gas company, I am willing to let that document and his utterance speak for themselves.

If he is trying to justify the action of the council by endeavoring to make it appear that some act of the gas company was the cause of the contract being awarded as it was, then the gas company refuses, and will refuse, to be used as a scape goat for the mistakes of others. Respectfully,
HIRAM MERRILL.

M'LEAN STOCK TO BE SOLD

There Will Be Nothing Left to Satisfy $3,000 of Floating Debts

The chattel mortgages on the J. B. McLean stock having been held valid the stock will be sold at once for the benefit of the mortgagees, George C. McLean and Isaac F. Connors. The mortgages amount to $3,500 and the stock inventories but little more so the remaining creditors, whose claims aggregate $3,000 probably will get nothing.

Empty freight cars are not left in the local switch yards many days this summer. There is a call for all the cars available in the grain regions and while there is no car famine yet there are orders which require cars to be unloaded at once on receipt, that they may be rolled on to do more work.

THURMAN GOT $2000 FOR AFTON PEARL

BIG GEM SOLD TO MRS. WALLACE, OF CHICAGO.

Found By a Farmer Near the Afton Flour Mill, on Bass Creek, and Was Hidden in a Rough-Shelled Clam That Came Here in an Early Day.

The handsome pearl that now glitters at the throat of Mrs. Cecelia Wallace, of Chicago, was worn, for heaven knows how long, by a common, rough shelled clam that resided back of the old mill at Afton, six miles from this city. Mrs. Wallace now owns the pearl, and two thousand dollars in coin of the realm jingles in the pocket of George W. Thurman, the Albany pearl merchant, for Mrs. Wallace paid him that amount for the gem.

B. T. Andrews, a well known Magnolia farmer, made up his mind a few months ago that there was money in pearl hunting. He has devoted most of his summer to it. While opening clams on the shore of Bass creek, back of the Afton mill, he ran across a particularly rough looking clam that he found to contain a pearl that he called a "good one." It was perfect in shape, of large size and very brilliant.

Young Got It For $350.
John Young, the Brodhead land lord, hunted up Andrews as soon as he heard of the find, examined the pearl, and bought it for $350. Andrews was much pleased over the deal, and Young was able to smile himself before long. George W. Thurman of Albany, who is recognized as one of the most successful pearl buyers in the state, heard of his pearl, and paid Young a handsome premium for the gem.

Chicago people whose wealth is written in seven figures, are the people who buy most of Mr. Thurman's choicest finds, and the fastest express train that runs into Chicago ran none too fast to suit Mr. Thurman once he had the big Afton pearl in his possession.

Sold Readily at $2,000.

When once in the city he found his way to the Auditorium where he laid his jewel before Mrs. Cecelia Wallace, whose pearl collection is worth many thousands of dollars. She admired the stone greatly and before many minutes had elapsed the deal for its sale had been arranged and the writing of a check for $2,000 closed the transaction.

This is not the first big price paid for Rock river pearls and not a few are held by wealthy Chicagoans at fancy prices.

BICYCLE RIDER BADLY HURT

Bert Ramsey Thrown From His Wheel By Striking a Dog.

Just at the finish of the mile handicap in the Peloit Cycle club's races last evening, a dog ran under Bert Ramsey's wheel and threw the rider in such a manner that he sustained severe injuries and was rendered unconscious. He was removed to his home, and it will be some time, if ever, before he will be able to ride again.

These race meets have developed some fast riders in Beloit. The club is now planning on an open meet within two weeks, and the fast riders of Janesville, Rockford, Belvidere and other places will be given an opportunity to test their speed on the best dirt track in Wisconsin.

Were you to read the catalogue of every piano manufacturer in the United States you would find that about all claim to make the finest piano, the cheapest often making the greatest claims and having the most gilt upon the covers of their catalogues. You ask who can we believe. False prophets have made confusion in other days than these, so beware.
A personal examination of the interior of the many pianos will convince you that the REED & SONS PIANO is the finest finished piano in the world. You will admit this as you look into the matter more closely.

DIREFUL DIABETES.

How Its Symptoms May Be Detected and Progress Be Checked.

Fatal Results Follow if the Disease is Permitted to Have Its Own Way—Dodd's Kidney Pills Absolutely Cure It.

St. Paul, Minn., July 31—One of the symptoms of incipient Diabetes is a frequent desire to pass water. This causes the patient much annoyance both day and night. As the disease advances the act of urination is accompanied by severe pains. The urine if allowed to stand in a corked bottle will show floating matter, and will be thick, dark in color, and will be found on chemical analysis to contain sugar.

Diabetes is a frequent and fatal disease. The death is a lingering one. The patient becomes emaciated, weak and flabby from loss of strength, loses his sleep and appetite, and becomes a wreck of humanity. Imagine what the constant seeping sugar from the blood and replacing it with poison will do to you.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure diabetes. They cure because they regulate the flow of urine, check the outgo of sugar, and filter the blood of poison.

Here are two men in St. Paul who were on the verge of diabetes, and were cured of their ailments by Dodd's Kidney pills.

Dodd's Medicine Co.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with bladder disease for over one year. I could not hold my urine. I tried all sorts of remedies, but could get no relief, until I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used one box and am cured. You may publish this.

DODD'S MEDICINE CO.—Gentlemen: For over two years past I have had severe pains while passing my water. I could get nothing that would help me. I have used one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and now all pains and bladder weakness have left me and I am perfectly cured. You are welcome to publish this if you see fit; if it will help others.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

Sailor Suits of Brown Holland and Greenaway Gowns.

Mother Hubbard and Greenaway gowns still remain in favor for children, being of a style easily made, picturesque and becoming and peculiarly suited to wash goods, a consideration of great importance when a child's wardrobe is in question. There is also a revival of two-piece frocks for very little people, whether boys or girls, the plaited skirt being sewed on a low necked, sleeveless bodice of muslin which buttons behind. Over this is worn a blouse, of the same goods as the skirt or of white nainsook, or a little jacket. Sleeves follow the same general lines as those of older persons. Sleeves for little boys' clothing are very little longer at the top than at the wrist, being finished usually with a cuff of some sort.

Perhaps the most serviceable, comfortable and pretty costumes for summer wear for very little boys are the sailor or kilt suits made of brown holland or striped galatea. The latter goods are especially pleasing when trimmed with plain galatea of the same color as the stripes. This usually forms the sailor collar and the cuffs.

Today's illustration shows a gown for a girl 6 years old. It is of pink and white woveen plaid and has a skirt gathered all around at the waist. Half way down the skirt are placed three horizontal bands of narrow black velvet. The blouse is mounted on a yoke of plaited white batiste trimmed with embroidered insertion. The plain sleeves of plaid have a cap consisting of three plaid ruffles, bordered with black velvet. The belt is of white kid, and a sailor hat of white straw is worn, trimmed with a black band and white quills.

FIRST WOMAN CITIZEN

Her Sturdy Lads and Clever Lasses Become Prominent Citizens—What Some of them Accomplished.

From the News, Indianapolis, Ind.

Hundreds of thousands of men of foreign birth have taken out papers declaring their citizenship in Indiana since that State was admitted into the Union in 1816 without creating remark or comment. It was a different matter, however, when along in the forties the first woman of foreign birth applied for and received papers of citizenship.

This "first woman citizen" was an Irish widow who settled in southern Indiana with her progeny of sturdy lads and clever lasses upon a farm which she had bought.

"The Widow Ryan" as she was known in Daviess County, Indiana, was a great woman with a clever business head and left behind her those who grew to be worthy men and worthy women, and who have left their impress upon the State.

One of these sons James B. Ryan became treasurer of the State of Indiana, and a son-in-law, M. L. Brett, also held that high and honorable position. Another son was the late Lieut. Col. Richard J. Ryan who was, probably the most brilliant and gifted orator that Indiana ever produced, and who during the war for the Union served his country in the Thirty-fifth Indiana Volunteer Infantry, better known as "the Irish Regiment."

Another son is Thomas F. Ryan who is now 59 years old, and with a few intervals of absence has been a resident of Indianapolis for forty-two years.

In the early fifties smitten by the gold fever he went by way of the Isthmus of Panama to California. He has been all over the far west engaged in mining and trade operations in Oregon, Arizona and Montana. From May, 1885 until August, 1887 he was the government agent at the Seal Islands off the Alaska coast, a highly responsible position.

"For ten years or more" said Mr. Ryan in conversation with a group of gentlemen at the Indianapolis Board of Trade, "I have been extremely sensitive in my lower limbs, to weather changes. If my legs had been filled with quick silver I do not think they could have responded more quickly or more disagreeably to climatic conditions."

"During the past two years this infirmity became much worse, and I began to be alarmed, fearing paralysis. My legs were cold and recently from my knees down were without sensation. I could walk only short distances and would often experience great weariness. I became more and more alarmed. I naturally thought of paralysis or locomotor ataxia. The prospect was not a pleasing one."

"I happened to meet my old friend Capt. C. F. Shepard, of this city. He was chanting the praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and gave me his experience, telling me that he had been brought by using them from a bed where he lay helpless, less, his physician having declared him a hopeless victim of locomotor ataxia, and was now as active as any man of his age, not even requiring the use of a cane. Upon his recommendation I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"I found positive relief, after taking a few doses. The numbness in my limbs disappeared as if by magic and I can walk as fast as I like at a good rapid gait and without weariness."

"The pills also drove the rheumatism out of my hip for I have not been bothered with it since I began their use."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are for sale by all druggists, or may be had by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., for 50¢ per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

PROMISES REDEEMED.

The republican party is keeping its promises and will continue to do so. It has a reputation for just that thing. One of the radical faults of the party that defeated it in 1892 was that it did not keep promises. It passed a mongrel tariff fathered by nobody and repudiated by all organizations. After reducing revenue below the line of expenses and bringing disaster to American industries that party suddenly reversed its financial position as declared throughout its history. It was a fundamental change in the issues on which it had previously appealed to the people. Without the populist fusion and silver speculative raid the democratic party last year would have been beaten millions of votes. But the country preferred the party that stands squarely upon its platform. The resolutions adopted by its national conventions mean exactly what they say. There is an assurance of stability in the success of such a party. It never looks around for combinations by which declared principles can be traded for votes. Good faith marks its legislation, which is shaped on pledges accepted and trusted by the people.

In four months after the date of its return to power, and in the face of many difficulties, including the lack of a clear majority in the senate, the republican party has redeemed one of the most important promises of the St. Louis platform. The opening sentence in that plank runs: "We renew and emphasize our allegiance to the policy of protection as the bulwark of American industrial independence and the foundation of American development and prosperity." That idea has been applied with all possible directness and is now embodied in the law of the land. The concluding sentence of the same plank is: "The country demands a right settlement, and then it wants rest." In this prompt action and these firm assurances the business men of the United States can see a long period of certainties and a good prospect of wise policies. They know the value of a reputation for keeping promises. Where that is lacking prosperity is a shy visitor.

Tramps who refused to work on the stone pile in Terre Haute, Ind., were strung up by the wrists. A more popular way in Wisconsin is to put them on bread and water until they promise to go to some easier county.

The fact that a new fire bell has been bought for Lake Chaugogagogmar-chaugoghaubunagugamaug, in Maine, suggests that a rapid pronunciation of the name would alarm most communities enough without the bell.

The London Graphic may calm its worried spirits; its predicted revival of Bryanism in the United States will not materialize. By 1900 the silver craze will be referred to only in a reminiscent way.

Mr. Bryan has stopped pointing at Mexico, where silver is the favored product because Mexico is paying a premium of 125 for gold and is glad to get it at that.

The great wheat fields of the agricultural belt will produce more gold this year than Alaska will, and the production will not be accompanied by suffering, either.

If England wants part of the United States just let her come over after it, and there will be lots of fun.

A return of confidence and stability was promised by the republican party and the business world seems well pleased with the first lot of goods furnished.

The good words spoken for the house furnish proof that it is the quality, and not the quantity, of legislation that makes or mars the popularity of congress.

Those who are claiming to have known all about those rich deposits of gold in Alaska have so far failed to explain why they did not go there and get some.

President McKinley has earned his vacation and everybody hopes that he may enjoy it.

Gold Discovered in Mexico.
Hermosillo, Mexico, July 31.—After a long wait, a party of California prospectors, who two years ago went into the Yaqui Indian country west of here and discovered rich gold placers on the Batopito river, have secured a title to the property and have begun to work it. Four members of the party have taken out $140,000 worth of gold. The news of the bonanza has just reached here, and there will be a big rush to the new Eldorado.

Britain Finally Consents.
London, July 31.—The British foreign office has notified Ambassador Hay that Great Britain accepted the proposition of the United States for an international conference on the question of pelagic sealing in the Bering sea, to be held in Washington during the coming autumn.

Train Crew Suffocated.
Hinton, W. Va., July 31.—A freight train was stalled in Lewis' tunnel Friday on the Chesapeake & Ohio, and the crew was overcome by foul air. Conductor Ed Bray is dead. Samuel Hamilton, Ed Womack and Tom Kamewood are in a precarious condition.

Wreck on the Lehigh.
Buffalo, N. Y., July 31.—Two Lehigh freight trains collided at Dewey junction early Friday, killing Geo. Ellensbee, engineer, of Manchester, and Charles Edly, fireman, of Sayre. James Ratcliffe, fireman, of Sayre, was slightly injured.

Bankers Must Go to Jail.
Springfield, Ill., July 31.—Gov. Tanner has refused to consider the request for the pardon of Bankers Charles and Frank Meadowcroft, whose sentence was commuted Jan. 6 by Gov. Altgeld from one year in the penitentiary to sixty days in the county jail.

Odd Fellows Fix on Mattoon.
Mattoon, Ill., July 31.—Mattoon has been selected as the site for the old folks' home, to be erected by the Odd Fellows of Illinois.

W. C. T. U. Institute Closes.
Bay View, Mich., July 31.—The woman's Christian temperance union, representing Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan, closed a highly successful eight days' institute here Friday with an anniversary. The event was duly recognized in the programme of the Bay View Chautauqua Assembly as Woman's Christian Temperance union day.

COMMON SENSE CURE.

Pyramid Pile Cure Cures Piles Permanently by Curing the Cause.

Remarkable Remedy Which Is Bringing Comfort to Thousands of Sufferers.

Probably half the people who see this article suffer from piles. It is one of the commonest diseases and one of the most obstinate. People have it for years and just because it is not immediately fatal they neglect it. Carelessness causes no end of suffering. Carelessness about so simple a thing as piles has often caused death. Hemorrhages occur from no apparent cause and loss of blood causes death. Hemorrhages occur during surgical treatment, often causing death.

Piles are simple in the beginning and easily cured. They can be cured even in the worst stages, without pain or loss of blood, quickly, surely and completely. There is only one remedy that will do it—Pyramid Pile Cure.

It allays the inflammation immediately, heals the irritated surface and with continued treatment reduces the swelling and puts the membranes into good, sound, healthy condition. The cure is thorough and permanent.

Here are some voluntary and unsolicited testimonials that we have lately received. Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "Have been a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure."

Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, says: "I wish to add to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from Piles for forty years and from itching piles for twenty years and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectually cured me."

Most druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure or will get it for you if you ask them to. It is one dollar per package and is put up only by the Pyramid Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

WHAT JANESVILLE THINKS OF MINING

NOKLONDIKE EXCURSION FROM HERE YET.

Diverse Opinions Given to Gazette Reporters in a Series of One Minute Interviews Along Milwaukee Street—Some Will Go From Here in the Spring.

Janesville gold hunters are still in the Klondike. They read the Klondike news eagerly but thus far none of them have started for Dawson City. John Weisend got home from Seattle last night, and reports the people in the west as fairly wild over the Alaskan discoveries. In Tacoma, Seattle and Portland, the clothing merchants, Mr. Weisend says, each have large window displays of nothing but miners' goods and materials that one would need in going into the polar regions. People there by the hundreds are buying outfits, and the merchants are reaping a harvest.

Officer Appley would have gone before this but friends wrote him that it was too late in the season and that he would do well to wait. He is therefore preparing to go next spring on the first boat.

Officer John Brown also thinks that the chances of making a fortune are just as good next year as they are now.

Alderman George M. McKey says that he refused a good offer to go with a party of prospectors.

Charles I. Sloan says that the Klondike is the only place today to make money, unless a man has something especially desirable in the way of a stomach remedy for the metropolitan market.

John F. Sweeney says that a fortune awaits some one who starts a ten dollar a day hotel in Dawson City.

Sheriff Acheson is satisfied that tramps in that cold region are not in the habit of sleeping out nights.

Chief Hogan says there will be plenty of thieves on the Klondike as well as prospectors.

Al Smith has declared that he would go in a minute if he were a single man.

Alva Russell has camped out enough to be reminded that it will take a man with an iron constitution to live in Alaska in comfort.

John M. Nelson says he is satisfied to stay at home.

S. B. Hedges is now sorry that he didn't go direct to Alaska from San Francisco when the Christian Endeavor convention ended.

W. W. Porter will remain at home. He fears that the early frosts in Alaska would annually injure the tobacco crop.

W. E. Evenson says that the atmosphere there is a trifle too chilly, but it ought to make enough chapped hands to boom the Outcream trade.

Secretary J. P. Baker has been informed that none of the members of the Mississippi Golf club will try to hole out on the Klondike links.

A. W. Allison says that a year from today will see him there.

John W. Carpenter is convinced that the only way to do is to go with a party of six strong, healthy men.

Attorney William Byrne sees in Alaska a great field for the attorneys who are after big fees.

Agent E. J. Samuels has not as yet sold a single ticket for the land of wealth.

Joe Heald says that horse racing would not pay there while the gold excitement lasts.

Charles A. Potter denies that he is to run an excursion from this city to the Klondike region but that he expects a rush of business in the spring.

BELOIT MAN IS MISSING

Book Keeper Mallory Has Not Been Seen Since July 3.

The mysterious disappearance of Book Keeper M. Mallory of the Fairbanks-Morse company's force, Beloit, has aroused the Line City.

Mallory is a hard working, highly valued employee, his one weakness being his habit of going on protracted sprees about once a year.

Heretofore he has never stayed away more than a week. He disappeared July 3, however, and has not been seen since. There is no reason why he should absent himself voluntarily, and his family fear that he has met with violence. His brother from Batavia, Ill., has been making a search in Chicago, including a visit to all the morgues, but without result.

His wife, who lives in Iowa, had expected to join him this summer, and is almost frantic over his disappearance.

BREAD PILLS OUT FOR DOGS

The Method of The Second Ward Dog Poisoner Explained.

The method used by the Second ward dog poisoner has been discovered, but the poisoner's identity is still unknown. TRY TO BUY COAL IN THIS CITY

Dealers In Illinois Towns Looking In This Direction For Supplies.

Janesville is well enough supplied with coal so that outside dealers are writing here for supplies. Peter E. Neuses, of the Janesville Coal Company has received a letter from Libertyville, Ill., parties asking him to name the lowest price on any and all coal that he wishes to dispose of. The cost of shipping coal from this city to Libertyville would be too great, as three different roads will have to handle the shipment and therefore Libertyville will have to look elsewhere for fuel.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Neuses drove to Lake Koshkonong.

HER VISIT RESULTED IN A DIVORCE SUIT

MRS. VERNIE MILLARD GIVEN HER DECREE.

She Went to Minnesota for a Three Months' Stay With Relatives in 1895, and When She Came Back Husband Had Gone With Another Woman.

When Mrs. Vernie Millard of the town of Harmony, accompanied by her father, J. J. Powers, left Rock county in August 1895 to visit relatives at Grand Meadows, Minn., she did not suspect that her husband was preparing to desert her for the sake of another woman. Mrs. Millard had not much more than boarded the train however, according to the story she told Judge Bennett today, when her spouse fled to parts unknown.

With tears streaming down her cheeks Mrs. Millard told this in Judge Bennett's court this morning. Jackson & Jackson appeared in her behalf and after the submitting of her testimony the decree was granted on the grounds of desertion and cruel treatment, the plaintiff being given possession of her seven year old son.

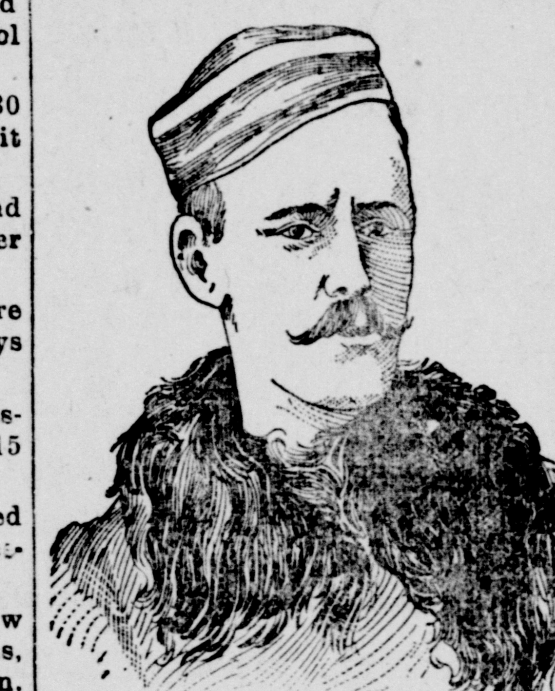

Mrs. Millard said this morning that she was married to the defendant in 1889 and that the first years of their life were very happy but that later Millard began to abuse her, compelling her to do not only the housework, but much farm work as well.

In August 1895 when Mrs. Millard said she intended to visit a relative in Minnesota her husband made no objection, in fact, rather urged her to take the trip. After a three months' visit she returned home to find that he had left with another woman, since which time neither of them have been seen.

GUIDE BOARDS ARE LACKING

Law Is Not Obeyed in Rock County—Town Officers Responsible.

The guide board law, which provides that all towns shall erect inscribed boards at all cross roads within their limits, is not being obeyed in Rock County. The town chairmen are responsible for the enforcement of the guide board law and every traveler who finds a cross road or other important point unmarked by a guide board should serve notice in writing upon the chairman of the town that no guide board exists at such point.

Bromley Gibberts' Story.

By ROBERT BARR.

[Copyright, 1897, by the Author.]

The room in which John Shorely edited The Weekly Sponge in London was not luxuriously furnished, but it was comfortable. A few pictures decorated the walls, mostly black and white drawings by artists who were so unfortunate as to be compelled to work for The Sponge on the cheap. Magazines and papers were littered all about, chiefly American in their origin, for Shorely had been brought up in the editorial school which teaches that it is cheaper to steal from a foreign publication than waste good money on original contributions. You clipped out the story, changed New York to London, Boston or Philadelphia to Manchester or Liverpool, and there you were. Shorely's theory was that the public was a fool and didn't know the difference. Some of the greatest journalistic successes in London proved the fact, he claimed, yet The Sponge frequently bought stories from well known authors and bragged greatly about it.

Shorely's table was littered with manuscripts, but the attention of the great editor was not upon them. He sat in his wooden armchair, with his gaze on the fire and a frown on his brow. The Sponge was not going well, and he feared he would have to adopt some of the many prize schemes that were such a help to pure literature elsewhere, or offer £1,000 insurance tied up in such a way that it would look lavishly generous to the constant reader, and yet be impossible to collect in a disaster really occurred.

In the middle of his meditations a clerk entered and announced Mr. Bromley Gibberts.

"Tell him I'm busy now. Tell him I'm engaged," said the editor, while the perplexed frown deepened on his brow.

The clerk's conscience, however, was never burdened with that message, for Gibberts entered, with a long ulster flapping about his heels.

"That's all right," said Gibberts, waving his hand at the boy, who stood with open mouth, appalled at the intrusion. "You heard what Mr. Shorely said. He's engaged. Therefore let no one enter. Get out."

The boy departed, closing the door after him. Gibberts turned the key in the lock, then sat down.

"There," he said. "Now we can talk unmolested. Shorely. I should think you would be pestered to death by all manner of idiots who come in and interrupt you."

"I am," said the editor shortly. "Take my plan and lock your door. Communicate with the outer offices through a speaking tube. I see you are down in the mouth, so I have come to cheer you up. I've brought you a story, my boy."

Shorely groaned. "My dear Gibberts," he said, "we have now—"

"Oh, yes; I know all about that. You have matter enough on hand to run the paper for the next 15 years. If this is a comic story, you are buying only serious stuff. If this is tragic, humor is what you need. Of course the up and down truth is that you are short of money and can't pay my price. The Sponge is failing; everybody knows that. Why can't you speak the truth, Shorely, to me at least? If you practiced an hour a day and took lessons—from me, for instance—you would be able in a month to speak several truthful sentences one after the other."

The editor laughed bitterly. "You are complimentary," he said. "I'm not. Try again, Shorely. Say I'm a boorish ass."

"Well, you are."

"There, you see how easy it is. Practice is everything. Now about this story. Will you?"

"I will not. As you are not an advertiser I don't mind admitting to you that the paper is going down. You see, it comes to the same thing. We haven't the money, as you say, so what is the use of talking?"

Gibberts hitched his chair closer to the editor and placed his hand on the other's knee. He went on earnestly.

"Now is the time to talk, Shorely. In a little while it will be too late. You will have thrown up The Sponge. Your great mistake is trying to ride two horses, each facing a different direction. It can't be done, my boy. Make up your mind whether you are going to be a thief or an honest man. That's the first step."

Gibberts entered, with a long ulster flapping about his heels.

"What do you mean?"

"You know what I mean. Go in for a paper that will be entirely stolen property or for one made up of purely original matter."

"We have a great deal of original matter in The Sponge."

"Yes, and that's what I object to. Have it all original or all stolen. Be fish or fowl. At least 100 men a week see a stolen article in The Sponge which they have read elsewhere. They then believe it is all stolen and you lose them. That isn't business, so I want to sell you one original tale which will prove to be the most remarkable story written in England this year."

"Oh, they all are," said Shorely wearily. "Every story sent to us is the most remarkable story—in the author's opinion."

"Look here, Shorely," cried Gibberts angrily, "you mustn't talk to me like that. I'm no unknown author, a fact of which you are very well aware. I don't need to peddle my goods."

"Then why do you come here lecturing me?"

"For your own good, Shorely, my boy," said Gibberts, calming down as rapidly as he had flared up. He was a most uncertain man. "For your own good, and if you don't take the story some one else will. It will make the fortune of the paper that secures it. Now you read it while I wait. Here it is, typewritten at one and threepence a thousand words, all to save your blessed eyesight."

Shorely took the manuscript and lit the gas, for it was getting dark. Gibberts sat down for awhile, but soon began to pace the room, to Shorely's manifest annoyance. Not content with this, he picked up the poker and noisily stirred the fire.

"For heaven's sake, sit down, Gibberts, and be quiet," cried Shorely at last.

Gibberts seized the poker as if it were a weapon and glared at the editor. "I won't sit down, and I will make just as much noise as I want to," he roared. As he stood there defiantly Shorely saw a gleam of insanity in his eye.

"Oh, very well, then," said Shorely, continuing to read the story.

For a moment Gibberts stood grasping the poker by the middle; then he flung it with a clatter on the fender, and sitting down gazed moodily into the fire without moving until Shorely had turned the last page.

"Well," said Gibberts, arousing from his reverie, "what do you think of it?" "It's a good story, Gibberts. All your stories are good," said the editor carelessly.

Gibberts started to his feet and swore. "Do you mean to say," he thundered, "that you see nothing in that story different from any I or any one else ever wrote? Hang it, Shorely, you would not know a good story if you met it coming up Fleet street. Can't you see that story is written with a man's heart's blood?"

Shorely stretched out his legs and thrust his hands far down in his trousers pockets.

"It may have been written as you say, although I thought you called my attention a moment ago to its typewritten character."

"Don't be flippant, Shorely," said Gibberts, relapsing again into melancholy. "You didn't like the story then? You didn't see anything unusual in it—purpose, force, passion, life, death, nothing?"

"There is death enough at the end. My objection is that there is too much blood and thunder in it. Such a tragedy could never happen. No man could go to a country house and slaughter every one in it. It's absurd."

Gibberts sprang to his feet and began to pace the room excitedly. Suddenly he stopped before his friend, towering over him, his long ulster making him look taller than he really was.

"Did I ever tell you the tragedy of my life—how the property that would have kept me from what has?"

"Of course you have, Gibberts. Sit down. You've told it to everybody—to me several times."

"How my cousin cheated me out of"—

"Certainly—out of land and the woman you loved."

"Oh, I told you that, did I?" said Gibberts, apparently abashed at the other's familiarity with the circumstances. He sat down and rested his head in his hands. There was a long silence between the two, which was finally broken by Gibberts saying:

"So you don't care about the story?"

"Oh, I don't say that. I can see it is the story of your own life with an imaginary and sanguinary ending."

"Oh, you saw that, did you?"

"Yes. How much do you want for it?"

"Fifty pounds."

"What?"

"Fifty pounds, I tell you. Are you deaf? And I want the money now."

"Bless your innocent heart, I can buy a longer story than that from the greatest author living for less than £50. Gibberts, you're crazy."

Gibberts looked up inquiringly, as if that thought had never occurred to him before. He seemed rather taken with the idea. It would explain many things which had puzzled both himself and his friends. He meditated upon the matter for a few moments, but at last shook his head.

"No, Shorely," he said, with a sigh, "I'm not insane, though goodness knows I have had enough to drive me mad. I don't seem to have the luck of some people. I haven't the talent for going crazy. But to return to the story. You think £50 too much. It will make the fortune of the paper that publishes it. How? Let me see. I had it a moment ago, but the point has escaped my memory. What was it you objected to as unnatural?"

"The tragedy. There is too much wholesale murder at the end."

"Ah, now I recollect! Now I have it."

Gibberts began energetically to pace the room again, smiting his hands together. His face was in a glow of excitement.

"Yes, I have it now—the tragedy. Granting a murder like that—one man a dead shot, killing a country house full. Imagine it actually taking place. Wouldn't all England ring with it?"

"Naturally."

"Of course it would. Now you listen to me. I am going to commit that so called crime. One week after you publish the story I'm going down to that country house, Channon Chase. It is my house, if there were justice and right in England, and I'm going to slaughter every person in it. I will leave a letter saying the story in The Sponge is the true story of what led to the tragedy. Your paper in a week will be the most talked of journal in England—in the world. It will leap instantaneously into a circulation such as no weekly on earth ever before attained. Look here, Shorely, that story is worth £50,000 rather than £50, and if you don't buy it some one else will. What do you say?"

"I say you are joking, or else—as said just now—you are as mad as a hatter."

"Admitting I am mad, will you tell the story?"

"No, but I'll prevent your committing the crime."

"How?"

"By giving you in charge. By informing on you."

"You can't do it. Until such a crime is committed no one would believe it could be committed. You have no witnesses to our conversation here, and will deny every assertion you make. My word at present is as good as yours. All you can do is to ruin your own chances of fortune, which knocks one at every man's door. When I came in you were wondering what you could do to put The Sponge on its feet. I saw it in your attitude. Now what do you say?"

"I'll give you £25 for the story on its own merits, though it is a big price, and you need not commit the crime."

"Done! That is the sum I wanted, but I knew if I asked it you would offer me £12 10s. Will you publish it within a month?"

"Yes."

"Very well, write out the check. Don't cross it. I have no bank account."

When the check was handed him, Gibberts thrust it into the ticket pocket of his ulster, turned abruptly and unlocked the door.

"Goodby," he said.

As he disappeared Shorely noticed how long his ulster was and how it flapped about his heels. The next time he saw the novelist was under circumstances that could never be effaced from his memory.

The Sponge was a 16 page paper, with a blue cover, and the week Gibberts' story appeared it occupied the first seven pages. As Shorely ran it over in the paper it impressed him more than it had done in the manuscript. A story always seems more convincing in type.

Shorely met several men at the club who spoke highly of the story, and at last he began to believe it was a good one himself. Johnson was particularly enthusiastic, and every one in the club knew Johnson's opinion was infallible.

"How did you come to get hold of it?" he said to Shorely, with unnecessary emphasis on the personal pronoun.

"Don't you think I know a good story when I see it?" asked the editor indignantly.

"It isn't the general belief of the club," replied Johnson airily, "but

"He told me shortly it was none of my business."

then all the members have sent you contributions, so perhaps that accounts for it. By the way, have you seen Gibberts lately?"

"No. Why do you ask?"

"Well, it strikes me he is acting rather queerly lately. If you ask me, I don't think he is quite sane. He has something on his mind."

"He told me," said the new member, with some hesitation, "but really I don't think I'm justified in mentioning it, though he did not tell it in confidence, that he was the rightful heir to a property in"—

"Oh, we all know that story!" cried the club unanimously.

"I think it's the club whisky," said one of the oldest members. "I say it's the worst in London."

"Verbal complaints not received. Write to the committee," put in Johnson.

"If Gibberts had a friend in the club, which I doubt, that friend should look after him. I believe he will commit suicide yet."

These sayings troubled Shorely as he walked back to his office. He sat down and wrote a letter asking Gibberts to call. As he was writing, McCabe, the business manager of The Sponge, came in.

"What's the matter with the old sheet this week?" he asked.

"Matter? I don't understand you."

"I have just sent an order to the printer to run off an extra 10,000, and here comes in a demand from Smith's for the whole blooming lot. The extra 10,000 were to go to different news agents who have sent repeat orders, so I have told the printers now to run off at least 25,000 and keep the plates on the press. I never read The Sponge myself, so I thought I would drop in and ask you what the attraction is. This rush is unnatural."

"Better read the paper and find out," said Shorely, who had the usual editorial contempt for the business management.

"I would if there were not so much of your stuff in it," retorted McCabe, who had a fixed belief that were it not for the expensive and useless luxury of an editor a paper might pay.

Next day McCabe reported a bewil-

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sale reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

originated by H. W. Marcus, a merchant of Olean, N. Y. He proposes that the next issue of paper currency be made on colored paper and suggests that there shall be a marked contrast in the bills of smaller denomination, such as blue, $1 bills; red, $2 bills; green, $5 bills, and so on. For the bills of higher denomination more delicate shades of color could be used.

General Woodford is a genuine Bowery boy, for he was born on that historic New York thoroughfare in 1835. He was educated at Columbia college and spent a year at Yale. He was admitted to the bar in 1857.

In 1852 he became a Unitarian, and in 1854 became minister of a Unitarian church at Washington. Three years later he made another change and became pastor of the First Congregational church at Cincinnati. Although he has some renown as a preacher, Mr. Conway is best known as an author.

Good Clock Scheme.

A postoffice clock in Sydney emits an electric flashlight lasting five seconds every hour during the night, thus enabling those living miles away to ascertain the exact time.

Couldn't Fool Her.

"I think my wife is the smartest woman in the community," said Swayback. "There is no use trying to fool her."

"Did you try it lately?" asked Snooper.

"Yes. Called her up by telephone last night to tell her that important business would keep me down town quite late, and she replied that she knew what sort of important business it was; that she could smell whisky on my breath already, over the wires, and I tell you, sir, I had taken only one small snifter."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Explanation.

Mr. Newwed (with suppressed emotion)—The last time I went to the club and came home late, I found you asleep, and in your sleep you murmured: "Come to-morrow night as usual, my darling; my husband will be away." Now, madam, I have remained at home every night since, but have been unable to identify my rival, and I demand an explanation.

Pretty Wife (fondly)—I wasn't asleep.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Old, Old Story.

"I know I play chess very poorly," said the young woman, moving her knight to the wrong square, "but I love to learn."

"I wonder," replied the young man, preparing to mate in three moves, "if you could learn to love!"

Her answer was very soft and gentle, but it broke up the game at once.—Chicago Tribune.

He Was Self-Regulating.

She—You stay out later and later every night.

He—You do not mind that, do you? She—Oh, no. I am glad to see you do so. If you keep on in the way you are going you will eventually be coming home early again, when you have completed the circle of the hours.—Indianapolis Journal.

Never Touched Him.

Parke Row—I didn't know Spunglerly's address, so I sent a letter to him to the Bon Ton cafe; he's always there, and it's mighty strange I get no answer.

Phil Space—Heavens, man! Didn't you know that all the mail that way goes to the cashier's desk?—N. Y. Truth.

Distinguished Allies.

"Do you know," said Tattered Tompkins to Weary Walker, "that we are allied to the English nobility?"

"Naw."

"It's a fact. I read in the paper that woman wrapped our last hand-out in that none o' them aristocratic ducks ever work."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Advantage.

"Mrs. Wellup says she is going to spend a large part of the summer at home in the city," said Mr. Cumrox, reproachfully.

"Yes," replied the wife. "She can afford to. She's so rich nobody can insinuate she's obliged to."—Washington Star.

From Appearances.

Armson—That's Muggins. He was pretty badly hurt in a fight the other day.

De Manising—Where?

"On the West side."

"He walks as if he'd been hurt a little on the east side, too."—Chicago Tribune.

His Advantage.

The animals ran a friendly race One day before the fall. The giraffe, he won by just a neck, And yet he distanced them all.

—Chicago Tribune.

NOT THE RIGHT KIND.

"Bridget, why don't you light the gas in the kitchen?"

"Sure, mum, the only matches I could find wuz parlor matches."—N. Y. Journal.

Accommodating.

"Don't blow out the gas," the placard read, So Reuben, to be polite, Just let it alone, jumped into bed, And burned the gas all night.

—Chicago Times-Herald.

Teddie Was Safe.

Teddie Thoughtless—They say—aw—Miss Vandervhac, that tobacco will kill germs, don't y' know.

Miss Vandervhac—It's a good thing you stick to cigarettes, Teddie.—Town Topics.

A Convincing Circumstance.

"He is a very poor judge of human nature," remarked Miss Cayenne, thoughtfully.

"What leads you to that conclusion?"

"He has such a good opinion of himself."—Washington Star.

Commendable Caution.

She—It may be I have yellow fever, Henry; I think we had better send for Dr. Pillsbury.

He—Why, my love, I wouldn't send for him. You know he is color-blind.—Harlem Life.

He Was Lonesome.

Flippant Cockney (to countryman)—Are there many fools in this part of the world, my lad?

Yokel—Not as I know on, zur. Why, d'ye feel a bit lonesome like?—Tit-Bits.

8 Other Good Stories

This is what we have in store for our readers. The other stories are by Lucy Cleveland, Ian Maclaren, Kate Jordan, Anthony Hope, Robert Barr, Henry Herman, W. L. Alden and James Payn.

They Are All Original and Copyrighted

The first of this series will be published soon.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.

Not a shelf in our store but is emptied once a week and carefully wiped --the shelf and everything on it. We began doing this so we could keep things looking nice and clean, but we find the arrangement a great help in keeping them nice and clean and fresh and tempting. FASHION NOTES.

Checked Skirts—Delicate Summer Goods In White and Pale Shades.

Hats turned up at the back or the side, with flowers filled in under the brim, are exceedingly fashionable this summer. Choux of gauze and ostrich tips are also employed beneath the brim, but flowers are rather more effective next the hair.

Separate skirts of small checked goods are much worn this season. Black and white is the favorite combination for these shepherds' plaids, but brown and white and blue and white are also seen.

White is pre-eminently favored, and next come the palest tints of blue, mauve, green, straw and pink. In sheer goods costumes of these colors are especially charming, with their multiplicity of transparent ruffles, plaitings and puffings, their knots of ribbon, their frills of lace and their choux of flowers at the collar. Flowered muslins are equally attractive made in the same way and worn with light straw hats, also adorned with flowers. Hats are rather striking at present, bright in color, usually rather large and much trimmed, to harmonize with the profusely decorated gowns now worn. Flowers, lace, gauze, ribbon, silk and ostrich plumes are the fashionable ornaments, all of these being sometimes seen on one hat, but with less agreeable effect than is obtained by using a more limited variety. Buckles are also well employed for holding the trimming in place.

The picture shows a costume of pink moire. The skirt is trimmed with lengthwise bands of guipure insertion or richelieu embroidery. The bodice is draped obliquely under a bow of pink moire and is adorned with bands of guipure or embroidery and plaitings of pink mousseline de soie. The sleeves of pink moire have applications of guipure or embroidery and drapery at the top, trimmed with plaitings of pink mousseline de soie. The neck and wrist frills are of white mousseline de soie. The hat of pink straw is trimmed with pink flowers and a black moire bow.
